

MORAL SUASION TO BE APPLIED TO THE LEAGUE

Situation Comes Over Frontier
Disputes Between Four
Kingdoms

ASSEMBLY HAS LIMITATION

Can Go No Further Than Express
Its Sentiments, Says Lord
Robert Cecil

GENEVA. Sept. 26.—Another application of moral suasion will be presented to the League of Nations by the League of Nations in the frontier disputes between Britain, France, Italy and Spain on the one hand and between Albania and Greece on the other side of the Rhine. The League assembly so decided this evening after debating on the conflict all afternoon. The British delegation, headed by Lord Cecil, delegate to Albania, M. Franklin, and Dr. G. and M. Spink, which from June 10th.

Allies Study Case.

Lord Robert Cecil, summing up the debate, said that the assembly could go no further than to pass a resolution of protest against the frontier because the allied and associated powers have the matter in hand. However, the assembly did adopt, a resolution expressing the hope of the Allies that the League and the Jugo-Slavs will accept the decision of the council of ambassadors. The assembly also adopted another resolution calling upon the council of the league to appoint a committee to inquire into the situation to go to Albania and investigate the situation.

Holding Frontier Line.

M. Spink read a telegram from Lord Robert Cecil, confirming the Albanian report of the ultimatum issued by Italy and France to the Jugo-Slavs and the Albanians, the bombardment of areas by the Jugo-Slavs and the Italian blockade of the frontier.

The spokesman stated, however, that all these operations were aimed at the demarcation and were intended only to drive the Albanians back to their frontier. The ultimatum was traced by General D'Emery, of France, and is purely military, without political intent.

This morning's debate on blockade appeared in the last few days by many of the delegates that the assembly is applying moral suasion to the most important problems, those of disarmament and blockade.

The assembly's resolutions were prepared with great difficulty. The delegations between two distinct groups, those headed by Lord Robert Cecil, Dr. G. and M. Spink, which is radical on dismemberment, but conservative of blockade, and those headed by Sir H. F. L. Fisher, of Britain, and M. Bourgeois, of France, which stood for strict application of the covenant provisions for blockade and for a general policy on dismemberment.

It is generally reckoned after today that the assembly will accept the rule requiring unanimity of a question before it takes any procedure and election. It will be impossible to make such general agreement on dismemberment or blockade at this session.
